Society Deserts City for Country Clubs and Resorts

Three-Day Holiday Marked by a General Exodus Toward Hills and Shore; Governor's Island Party, and the Tuxedo Horse Show This Week

NUMEROUS weddings of social interest took place yesterday. One of the most notable in the city was that of Miss Phyllis Elwyn Moore, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Moore, of 267 West Seventy-third Street, to John de Raimes Storey, in the chapel of St. Bartholomew's Church. It was a small wedding, with only relatives and a few intimate friends present at the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Harry Ransome, rector of Christ Church, Media, Pa., an uncle of the bride. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Anne F. Moore. Leonard Hatch served as Mr. Storey's best man, and the ushers were Clinton Combes and William MacRossie. When Mr. Storey and his bride return from their wedding trip they will live at 136 East Thirtieth Street.

delphia. Her father was Counselor of the State Department under the Wilson Administration. At the opening of the war she took part in relief work, not only here, but in Europe, being associated with the Red Cross and the Rockefeller Institute. The engagement of her sister Miss Angela Turner Moore, to Herman G. Place, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira A. Place, of this city, was announced recently. Mr. Storey is a graduate of Harvard, class '03.

Carolyn Caldwell Bride of Cebra Quackenbush Graves

The marriage of Miss Carolyn Caldwell, daughter of James Henry Caldwell, of Troy, N. Y., to Cebra Quackenbush Graves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Collins M. Graves, of Bennington, Vt., took place yesterday in St. Paul's Church, Troy, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Edgar Enos, of Troy, assisted by the Rev. James McKee, of Bennington, Vt. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Livingston W. Houston, as matron of honor; Miss Isabel Norton, of Bennington, Vt., as maid of honor; Miss Martha Warren Vail, of Troy; Miss Natalie Reynal, of New York; Mrs. Lester D. Burton, of New York; and Mrs. John Christie Caldwell, of Troy, as bridesmaids.

William Russell Graves served as his brother's best man, and the ushers were George Graves, John C. Caldwell, Livingston Houston, William P. Black, Charles Phelps and Lester D. Burton. The ceremony was followed by a small reception at the home of the bride's father, who is president of the Ludlow Valve Manufacturing Company, president of the Troy Trust and president of the Samaritan Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves, after a two weeks' motor trip, will live at 222 West Eleventh Street, New York.

Another wedding yesterday was that of Miss Ethel C. Kenworthy, daughter of Thomas Kenworthy, of 102 West Eighty-third Street, to William P. Black, of Stockholm, Sweden, in St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, West End Avenue and Eighty-sixth Street.

The wedding was performed by the Rev. Dr. Raymond Foran, and a reception and dinner followed at the Hotel Biltmore. Miss Elizabeth Terradell was the bride's maid of honor and only attendant. Baron S. Beck Fris served as Mr. Black's best man, and the ushers were Arne Roselius, Sven Denfeld, Count G. Moerner, Ven Erik, Edward Fagman and Lieutenant Lester M. Greff.

Horton Sisters to Have Double Wedding Wednesday

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., May 28.—During the last week many of the colonists at White Sulphur Springs have been motoring long distances along the fine roads through the upland valleys or following the winding trails over the pine-wooded ridges of the Alleghenies. Although the two golf courses have never been more popular, the lure of mountain country has been proving very strong indeed. Excursions on horseback or by carriage or motor have been the order of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Stevens are here from their winter home at Pasadena, Calif., and are spending a short time before going to Casanova for the earlier part of the summer. They were in a party driving to Elmhurst Farm for a Virginia dinner this week, and were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Wheeler, of Evansville, Ind.; Edwin H. Brainerd, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Grand Foster, of New York, after spending the winter at Orange Grove, Aiken, S. C., are here for an extended stay. They motored for lunch recently to the cottage of Colonel and Mrs. J. H. Branch who are here for the season.

This week marked the conclusion of the visit of Mrs. Pembroke Jones to White Sulphur Springs. After spending a month in her cottage she has returned to Pembroke Park at Wilmington, North Carolina, and expects to be in New York for a part of the week. Mrs. William Lord Sexton, of Philadelphia, and her sister, Miss Mabel Hyde, of New York, have joined the riding colony this week. Mrs. Sexton has been at White Sulphur Springs for several months, during which Mr. Sexton often came down for over the week-end, and is expected to return soon to Philadelphia.

Mrs. Samuel S. Campbell, of Belle Harbor, and Mrs. Jackson W. Rhoades, of Garden City, who arrived this week, are among the New Yorkers who are in the saddle. Another devotee of the saddle will be Miss Joseph Mercandetti, who is head of the Red Star Steamship Line.

In the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Broadway and Seventy-third Street, on Saturday morning, Miss Madeleine Estelle Boyle, niece of Louis Sunkel, of 380 Riverside Drive, will become the bride of Andrew Cunningham McTigue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McTigue, of Far Rockaway. Miss Alice Grace McTigue, sister of the bridegroom, will be Miss Boyle's only attendant. Lieutenant John Brulson McTigue, U. S. N., will be his brother's best man.

Plan Fair for Milk Funds

A fair and tea will be held at the country place of Mrs. Payne Whitney Grout, on Saturday morning, for the benefit of the Babies' Milk Funds of Nassau County Association and the New York Hospital. All kinds of articles will be on sale, including antique, bargains from auctions, old prints, delicious edibles, plants, live stock, including lambs, calves, dogs and birds, hats, etc. As another attraction, a pony and cart will be raffled.

Mrs. E. A. Schroeder, of 172 East Sixty-fourth Street, announced last week the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Armstrong Taylor, to Richard Loring Small, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Small, of Braintree, Mass. Miss Taylor has just completed a special four-year course at Columbia University. Mr. Small is a graduate of Harvard of the class of '16, and served abroad as a lieutenant in the 50th Infantry. No date has been set for the wedding.

Relatives and Few Friends Are Present at the Small Wedding in St. Bartholomew's Chapel; Carolyn Caldwell Is Married

THERE has been a general exodus on the part of society in the last few days from the city for seashore resorts, many of which have opened their season for the mountains and for the country estates and clubs near town. Decoration Day coming to-morrow has made a three-day holiday, and this has been taken advantage of by most of the members of the fashionable world for a rest in the country.

Many interesting sporting affairs have been arranged for Memorial Day, including tennis tournaments, golf, riding, racing and some of the yacht clubs officially open their seasons to-morrow with sailing races.

The opening of the racing season at Belmont Park, has made Long Island particularly lively, and all the big estates are filled with guests over the week-end, in whose honor dinners and dances were given last night, and to-morrow will be even more gay for the house guests.

Most of the clubs, the Aransley, Piping Rock, at Locust Valley, Long Island, the Whippany River, the Sleepy Hollow Country, Tuxedo and others had entertainments last night and also will be gay to-morrow evening.

Outdoor attractions are claiming the attention of society now, to the exclusion of almost everything else, although the June bride in the next two weeks will come in for her fair share of attention. This week several outdoor affairs will be held, including the annual garden party on Governor's Island, held under the auspices of the Army Relief Society, and on Friday and Saturday the annual horse show at Tuxedo Park. This latter affair will attract the exclusive Park contingent in large numbers and promises to be a brilliant affair. The proceeds will go to the new Tuxedo Memorial Hospital. The scene of the exhibition will be the race track, where a new show ring and other improvements are under way.

The price list contains forty-six classes, allotted to saddle horses, ponies, military horses, polo mounts and hunters. There will be some local classes, open only to residents of Tuxedo, and others of West Point and their families.

The exhibition coming at the end of the week means a brilliant week-end for the Tuxedo colony, and all the villas and the club will be filled with guests for the three days.

Tuxedo Park Horse Show Will Assure Brilliant Week

The garden party of the Governor's Island section of the Army Relief Society on Thursday afternoon and evening will be for the benefit of the widows and orphans of soldiers of the army. An interesting and attractive program has been arranged, and in addition to the regular social features, there will be a polo game between the Governor's Island team and Squadron A; boxing matches between well known men of the army; airplane exhibitions and the navy dirigible and a captive balloon will be shown. There will be a dress parade by the battalion of the 22d Infantry, Fort Jay, N. Y., and exhibition of the Fair's fireworks, an organ recital in the post chapel, and the unveiling of the Jeanne d'Arc stone, which was taken from the dungeon in Rouen in 1431. In the evening there will be dancing in the officers' club, Corbin Hall, the Service Club and cafeteria.

Some Patrons Will Give Use of Boxes to Wounded

Some of those who have taken boxes and will be unable to attend have turned them over to the committee for the use of wounded soldier from the nearby hospitals. The Red Cross ambulances will take them on to and from the island. Later in the day they will be guests for dinner of John McE. Bowman in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Commodore. Afterward they will be special guests of a number of theaters in the city.

The officers of the Governor's Island section of the Army Relief Society are: Mr. Robert L. Bullard, president; Mrs. William Doane, vice-president; and Mrs. Willard H. McCormack, secretary and treasurer. The executive committee is made up of Major General Robert L. Bullard, chairman; Brigadier General Grote Hutchison, Colonel John McE. Palmer, Colonel Raymond Sheldon, Lieutenant Henry M. Bankhead, Lieutenant Colonel William B. Wallace, Lieutenant Colonel Benjamin H. Kerfoot and Major William E. Schmitt.

In the polo match the teams will line up as follows: Squadron A—No. 1, Slouem Kingsbury; No. 2, E. Gerry Snow; No. 3, H. Kersan Cook; No. 4, Lucie Caballo. Governor's Island—No. 1, Major A. W. Gullion; No. 2, Captain B. F. Caffey; No. 3, Lieutenant Colonel W. B. Wallace; No. 4, Major General R. L. Bullard.

A fiesta Mexicana will be held at the Sleepy Hollow Country Club, Scarsborough-on-Hudson, to-morrow evening, for the benefit of the Ossining Hospital. The program is an attractive one and will include the Adolf Bolm orchestra, and the Little Symphony Orchestra. After the performance in the theater there will be dancing in the clubhouse. A special club dinner will be served in the evening for members and their guests at $4 a cover.

The entertainment committee consists of T. M. Cleland, chairman; William S. Kies and Hugh Ford.
